Hard Man to Beat: The Story of Bill White - Labour Leader, Historian, Shipyard Worker, Raconteur

By Howard White

Harbour Publishing. Paperback. Book Condition: new. BRAND NEW, Hard Man to Beat: The Story of Bill White - Labour Leader, Historian, Shipyard Worker, Raconteur, Howard White, Bill White (1905-2001) was an itinerant ranch hand and trapper, a member of the RCMP and an Arctic traveller, but he was best known for his work as the head of the Vancouver Labour Council and president of the Marine Workers and Boilermakers Union, the largest local union in Canada in his time. It was a position he held for eleven straight years during World War II, the heyday of the West Coast shipbuilding industry. Known as "Bareknuckle Bill", White was fierce and unrelenting in his condemnation of the companies and governments that refused to treat their workers like human beings. He personally fought one of the first big right-to-work cases in BC history, all the way to the Privy Council of England. From the scaffolds and docks of the shipyards to the battleground of the bargaining table, White's stories about the struggle for labour and human rights in Vancouver in the '40s and '50s make for harrowing and fascinating reading. "A Hard Man to Beat" not only covers all the major labour events...
