... now, Before the shadow of night be spent. Its little the time there is to waste now, If Id do the job for which I was sent. My bombs are right and my clippers ready, And I wriggle out to the chosen place, When I hear a rustle ... Steady! ... Steady! Who am I staring slap in the face There in the dark I can hear him breathing, A foot away, and as still as death; And my heart beats hard, and my brain is seething, And I know hes a Hun by the smell of his breath. Then: Will you surrender I whisper hoarsely, For its death, swift death to utter a cry. English schwein-hund! he murmurs coarsely. Then well fight it out in the dark, say I. So we grip and we slip and we trip and wrestle There in the gutter of No Mans Land; And I feel my nails in his wind-pipe nestle, And he tries to gouge, but I bite his hand. And he tries to squeal, but I squeeze him tighter: Now, I say, I can kill you fine; But tell me first, you Teutonic blighter! Have you any children He answers: Nein. NINE! Well, I cannot kill such a father, So I tie his hands and I leave him there. Do I finish my little job Well, rather; And I get home safe with some light to spare. Heigh-ho! by day its just prosy duty, Doing the same old song and dance; But oh! with the night This item ships from multiple locations. Your book may arrive from Roseburg,OR, La Vergne,TN.
